

Guillaume de Chambrier has received in 2011 a Master degree from the School of Informatics at the University of Edinburgh. From Feb. 2012, he joined the Department of Mechanical Engineering at École Polytechnique Fédérale Lausanne (EPFL) in Switzerland, as a doctoral assistant. His current research interests mainly focus on belief space planning, reinforcement learning and state space estimation.